

Santa Barbara/Ventura chapter of CRFG (Calif. Rare Fruit Growers)

California Rare Fruit Growers promotes the environmentally-sound culture of any and all edible plants in the home landscape by encouraging and helping to facilitate public and scientific research, education and preservation of plants worldwide that have edible seeds, fruit, leaves, stems or roots. The CRFG mission is to share knowledge acquired from these activities with home growers in particular and with anyone else having an interest in edible plant cultivation.

Learn to Top Graft Your Fruit Trees!

with Ed Hachfeld

at Mesa Harmony Garden

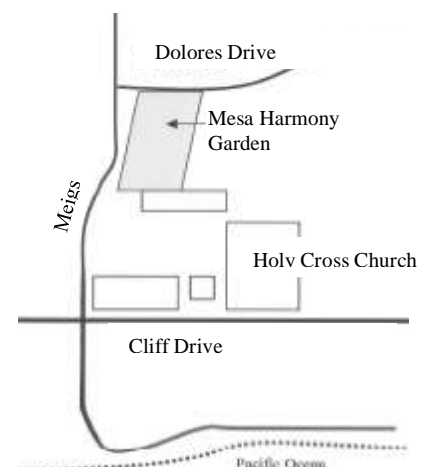

Attend a Top Grafting class with Ed Hachfeld at Mesa Harmony Garden, an exciting new Food Forest in Santa Barbara that is growing fruit for the Food Bank. (www.mesaharmonygarden.org) Learn how to graft multiple varieties of fruit onto an existing tree. You can turn apple, pear or stone fruit trees into a fruit cocktail tree by grafting different varieties onto it. By grafting onto an existing tree, the grafted wood will often produce fruit within a year.

Where: Mesa Harmony Garden, 1740 Cliff Drive, Santa Barbara, CA 93109. It's near the corner of Meigs and Cliff, but enter from the Dolores entrance. Dolores crosses Meigs and is one block northeast of Cliff.

Refreshments afterwards: Bring fruit and baked goods to share at our fruit tasting, plus plants for our plant sale!

The meeting is free for CRFG members, and a donation ($3 - $5) is requested from non-members.
